1	1	1	Adds	Sec. 257.8A	Nonpublic School State Aid Annual Increase

1 1 Section 1. NEW SECTION. 257.8A NONPUBLIC SCHOOL STATE
1 2 AID -- ANNUAL INCREASE.
1 3 For the school budget year beginning July 1, 2004, and 1 4 succeeding budget years, school districts shall receive an 1 5 amount for nonpublic school transportation costs and nonpublic
1 6 school textbooks equal to the greater of the amount
1 7 appropriated for the base year increased by an amount 1 8 corresponding to the state percent of growth established for 1 9 the budget year pursuant to section 257.8, or the amount the 1 10 school district would receive for the budget year pursuant to 1 11 the standing unlimited appropriation contained in sections
1 12 285.2 and 285.3 for nonpublic school transportation costs, and 1 13 section 301.1 for textbooks. In the event that an 1 14 appropriation is made for a budget year for nonpublic school
1 15 technology assistance, the provisions of this section shall be 1 16 applicable for the year following the year in which the 1 17 appropriation is made and each succeeding year thereafter.
1 18 The amount of an annual increase received pursuant to this
1 19 section shall be considered miscellaneous income to the school
1 20 district.

CODE: Creates an allowable growth factor for the standing General Fund appropriation for nonpublic school student transportation and for the General Fund appropriation for nonpublic school textbook costs. Beginning in FY 2005, the previous year's appropriations for these items will be increased by the percentage set for School Foundation Aid allowable growth for that fiscal year or to the amount the school district would receive pursuant to the standing unlimited appropriation, whichever is larger. If an appropriation is made for nonpublic school technology assistance, the allowable growth factor will be applied beginning the year after an appropriation is made for that purpose.

DETAIL: The FY 2004 appropriations are expected to be $7,799,550 for nonpublic school student transportation and $578,880 for nonpublic school textbooks. The FY 2005 allowable growth is set at 2.0%, yielding an FY 2005 increase of $155,991 for transportation and $11,578 for textbooks.
